CONTRIBUTORIAL.

BY JAS. WOOD DAVIDSON COLUMBIA, SOUTH CAROLINA, 15TH JULY, 1887.

This new hotel is well underway, and will no doubt be ready for boarders in a few months. The body of the building, of brick, is already up, and the work is going on. It is located in the western part of the city, northward from the Greenville CANDLES, .... depot and southwest of Sidney Park, not far from the Odd Fellows' School-house.

Negro School-house. The building in process of erection by the Freedmen's Bureau, for the use of the Freedmen's Schools, is located near the new Jail, in the western part of the city, towards the Greenville Railroad. It is a large two-story wooden house, with large the view of holding all the Schools for negroes, taught by the Bureau in Columbia. We understand the contract is to have the building ready for occupancy by the first of October, when the next Books.

The favor with which Louisa Mühlbach's books are being received in America is somewhat astonishing. Some of these exciting fictions were written a quarter of a century ago—or nearly. It was during the war that Joseph II. and His Court had such a run. Then we have had Frederick the Great and His Family, Frederick the Great and His Family, Frederick the Great and His Court, The Merchant of Berlin, Berlin and Sans-Souci.

Now on the head of all those, a New York publisher announces a round dozen of new novels by the same author, namely—Two Life Puths, Story of a Millionaire, Emperor Leopold II. and his Time, Empress Josephine, Napoleon in Germany,

STEVENS AND HIS BRETHREN.

A correspondent of the New York Herald relates a long conversation with Thad. Stevens on public men and public measures. We extract the following paragraphs:

WADE AND FESSENDEN-THEIR JEALOUSIES. Question—You think, then, that a resolution of a peachment could now be carried?

Mr. Stevens-I think not. It would be defeate Wade and Fessenden for the Presidency of the Senate was a very bitter one, and personal Senate was a very bitter one, and personal feeling and motives will interfere to prevent Wade from occupying the Presidential chair, even for a single day. After Wade's election, Blaine, of Maine, said on the floor of the House, "this Congress will never vote impeachment. We don't want any of Ben. Wade's 'Shellywaggers' around the White House." It is this sentiment that will defeat impeachment. peachment. Every little tricky politician wants this man for a postmaster or that man for a constable, and does not think Ben. Wade will give him what he wants, will oppose it.

NEW YORK ABOUT TO BE LOST.

dition of the republican party in New York State?
Mr. Stevens—I think you will be killed by conservatism in New York. Your republicans are what the Indian would call "mighty uncertain."
They have no boldness or settled principle. Your of the others are no better than he. Conkling has hitherto been true, and I hope he will continue so in his new position. I believe New York will be and by the dish-water which has been thrown a round by Greeley and Gerrit Smith.

HEADQUARTERS, FIRST MILITARY DIVISION, RICHMOND, VA., May 11, 1867.

Mrs. Harlowe Mather—My Dear Maddan: I shall be too glad if anything I can say will aid the society in its noble work. A large proportion of the people of the South have suffered, and many are still suffering almost to the limit of endurance, from the devastation of war and subsequent failure of crops. They are making every possible exertion to revive their various branches of industry and become self-supporting. The liberal assistance which the Northern people are well able to give, will relieve a great amount of distress, and benevolent men can bestow great. The faculty embraces seventeen eminent physicians and surgeons, The University has associated with it a large hospital clinic, where every form of medical and surgical disease is operated.

Have just returned from a tour through the section made memorable by "Sherman's march to the seaboard." Poverty, suffering and destitution of the people can scarcely be realized—living in huts, rudely constructed, of charred boards, of charred boards, of the constructed boards of the seaboard. in huts, rudely constructed, of charred boards, of rails, boughs and mud, you are met by hollow eyed, emaciated forms, whose first words are "bread"—for something to stifle the cravings of hunger. In one place, I witnessed the body of a child borne to its last rest, on a board, in the same rags in which it died. In another, four females, existed for a week on two pounds of corn, together with some roots. On the road, I met another who had walked twelve miles to beg some food for who had walked twelve miles to beg some food for her children. Many other instances can be given of sad suffering from actual want of food.
